WHAT WERE THE FUND'S COSTS FOR THE LAST YEAR?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Fund Name	Cost of a $10,000 Investment	Cost Paid as a Percentage of a $10,000 Investment
Goehring & Rozencwajg Resources Fund - Retail	$168	1.25%

HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR?

For the period, the Goehring & Rozencwajg Resource Fund Institutional class advanced 69.94% and the Retail class advanced 69.51%, outpacing the MSCI All Country World Index, which advanced 30.27%.

Compared to natural resource benchmarks, the Fund also performed well. The S&P Goldman Sachs Commodity Total Return Index advanced 51.14% on a total return basis over the same period. Against natural resource equities, the Fund also performed well. For example, the S&P North American Natural Resource Sector Index advanced 44.94%.

Performance was helped by the Fund's positioning in the first six months of the period and allocation changes made starting in the fourth quarter of 2025. Helping performance in the first six months of the period was our overweight exposure to gold equities, which surged along with a 30% increase in gold prices. Also helping performance in the first six months of the period was the Fund's exposure to the platinum group metal stocks. Platinum prices surged well over 100% during the second half of 2025, and the Fund's platinum equites performed extremely well.

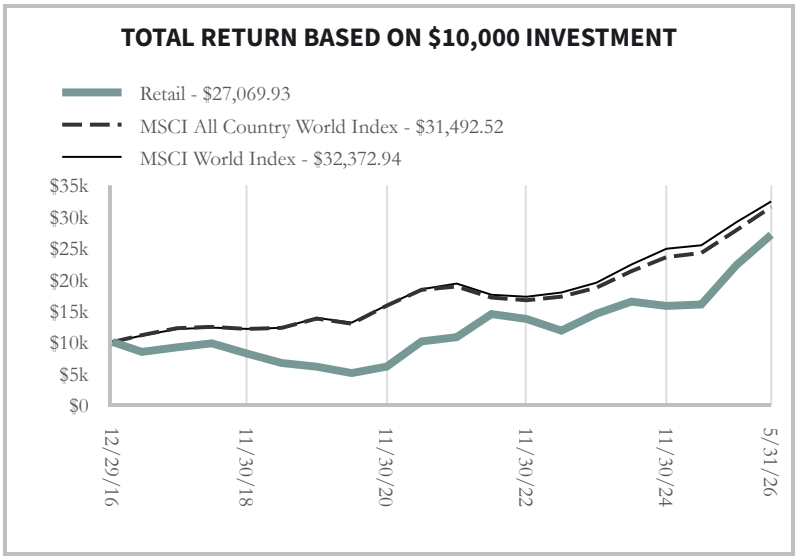

Also helping performance in the first six months of the period was our underweight exposure to energy-related equities. These stocks were some of the poorer performers during the last six months of 2025.

Given the surge in gold stocks, and the underperformance of energy equites, we repositioned the Fund starting in the fourth quarter of 2025. We significantly reduced exposure to gold stocks and allocated the profit proceeds to oil stocks, which had significantly lagged the market, and which we believe offered a great investment opportunity.

The repositioning of the Fund produced positive results. Gold prices and related equities peaked at the end of February and proceeded to experience large pullbacks. Almost concurrently, war broke out in Iran, resulting in the Strait of Hormuz becoming shut and oil prices surging, with energy stocks becoming market leaders. The Fund benefited from its reduced gold stock exposure and its increased energy exposure, both of which occurred before the big moves in both groups.

Also helping exposure during the period was the Fund's overweight positioning in uranium stocks. Over the last 12 months, increasing positive news flow has come from the nuclear power industry. Closed reactors are reopening, plants scheduled to be closed are to remain open, and a new nuclear power building cycle has begun. In response to positive news, uranium stocks advanced strongly.
